Laish

Chemicals keep me under control
Chemicals keep me under control
Chemicals keep me under control
Chemicals keep me under control You're sleeping at the wheel, I can't feel my face
Maybe it's better this way
My stomach's twisted, all tied up in knots
And I'm feeling like I don't want this Killing time as the clock goes tick tock, tick tock They'll never keep you away from me
I know where you'll be tomorrow
What difference does it make to you?
I don't care ain't got the time
Winning the race for another line It's written in my mind
Just to get it all away from me
Away from me 'Cause I think I'm falling
Falling out of touch with life
And I'm thinking it's all just a big mistake I think I'm falling
Falling out of touch with life
So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me
Eating away, eating me away
Feelings are so vague, so wrong
So what have I been telling myself? So I've been chosen
To be the victim of your misery
That's right, I'm frozen
Chemicals keep me under control
So cold from all the ice and amphetamines That I just might make you think
That Jesus was your middle name
As though it seems to be an act of God
But for now go ahead and believe
What you want to believe 'Cause I think I'm falling
Falling out of touch with life
And I'm thinking it's all just a big mistake I think I'm falling
Falling out of touch with life
So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me
Eating me away, eating me away
Feelings are so vague, so wrong
So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me
Eating me away, eating me away
Feelings are so vague, so wrong
So what have I been telling myself? You know it kill's me

It just When you feel so desperate
You got your grip on me
I take away all the trust
And all the sympathy When you feel so desperate
You got your grip on me
I take away all the trust
And all the sympathy Why is everybody hooked on everybody else
I'll guess I'll never understand it
Come and fill your head with lies
No, I can't explain why everyone seems so vague Must be the rage deep down inside of me
Eating me away, eating me away
Feelings are so vague, so wrong
So what have I been telling myself? Must be the rage deep down inside of me
Eating me away, eating me away
Feelings are so vague, so wrong
So what have I been telling myself? Deep inside it's eating me away
Feelings are so vague
Feelings are so vague
