

Lonely Boy (I'm Just A)

Ray Charles

He fills the room like champagne
Into an empty glass
As they slither to him like snakes
Through the grass His stance is quiet with grace
Before they throw him into the rat race
And he turns to me to say I'm a lonely boy
Even with the life I asked for Lonely boy, why don't you see
You're exactly the same as me?
You could be the most beautiful thing
That I ever did see with your head pointing down
And your friend's leaving town He sung like an angel
That had stepped deep inside
While I played my guitar
And scribed and cried And the nails that we jam into our hearts
Are essential and needed for the part
And he turns to me to say, I'm a lot like you
Does that mean, boy, I'll be lonely too Lonely boy, why don't you see
You're exactly the same as me?
You could be the most beautiful thing
That I ever did see with your head pointing down
And your friend's leaving town Days are passing like November rain
Constantly falling but nothing here remains
And he turns to me to say I'm a lot like you
Does that mean, boy, I'll be lonely too Lonely boy, why don't you see
You're exactly the same as me?
You could be the most beautiful thing
That I ever did see with your head pointing down
And your friend's leaving town Your home getting high everyday
Don't you think it's strange?

Read more at <http://www.songlyrics.com/ray-charles/lonely-boy-lyrics/#Ftcx4RmmpBGhO217.99>

Songwriters

BOONE, WILLARD/JONES, RONNIE /Published by

Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing, Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group, ARVEE MUSIC COMPANY

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>