Divide

Passafire

All I really need is just some room to breathe
Some space to separate what has been conceived
They say we're makin' our way, our way to an early grave
With some dues to pay, and resolution seems so far away.

Get your fix from fear, this is modern insecure
Watch it on the news it don't get much better
Those news casters sure are clever
Using our doubts and pimping our trusts
Breaking down the walls just to build 'em back up, yeah
We are all of the same.

You can wave your flag so high
Praise the cause with silver streams
Right off in that sky for your own side
How you try, and divide
How you try, try now and divide.

Well, it seems to me that everywhere you turn
There's a new cause for concern
Force the faction, slight of hand
A good distraction, and a change of plans
Brick by brick and stone by stone
Pointing out the flaws, but you can't see your own
Civilized, multiply, this enterprise.

Because you're bubbling on down the line
Yes, you're bubbling on down the line
Yeah, you're bubbling on down the line
It's a feeling that's oh so fine.

You can wave your flag so high
Praise the cause with silver streams
Right off in that sky for your own side
How you try, and divide
How you try, try now and divide.
