I'd Know That Heartache Anywhere

Holly Dunn

(Holly Dunn/Chris Waters)
I knew it was you walking through the door
Without even turning around
It was just like the feeling I had before
On the night that I watched you walk out
I saw your shadow pass over the wall
And I had to get out of it's way
I'd know that heartache anywhere
I've felt it so many times
I know when it's there
I recognize the signs in your eyes
And so I won't be buying your lies
When you try to tell me you care
I'd know that heartache anywhere
I hoped through the smoke and the neon light
I could slip out the way that I came
But just as I stepped out into the night
I heard you calling my name
There are some things in life
That you'd like to forget
But they just keep coming around
I'd know that heartache anywhere
I know when it's there
I recognize the signs in your eyes
And so I won't be buying your lies
When you try to tell me you care
I'd know that heartache anywhere
Anywhere
