

Press Hold

Johnossi

Get born and when you see the lights you wanna close your eyes

Grow up and when you do it's like a boring day at school

Sail away

and when you sail away you notice there's no wind

Oh you`ll never find the time to make your future look bright

I wanna see a smile on your face when you`re old

You know the future`s yet to be told press hold, press hold, press hold

I know you wanted to grow, as a person inside

but all your dreams collide

Drive away

and when you drive away you notice there's no road

Fly away

and when you fly away you notice there's no heaven

Run away

and when you run away you notice there's no ground

Grow old and when you old you die and when you die you`re dead

So you`ll never find the time to make your future look bright

I wanna see a smile on your face when you`re old

You know the future`s yet to be told

press hold, press hold, press hold

I know you wanted to grow, as a person inside

And everybody`s alone with their person inside and all your dreams and lies

Meanwhile i keep rolling make my time innocent

I wanna press hold and colour the grey

without your boundaries i`ll be ok

I know you wanted to grow...
