

Lay Them Down

Tommy Shaw

Yeah! Mischief in motion
Seemed innocent enough
Wild-eyed devotion
Now you can't give it up Back on your feet again
You call it luck
You justify anything
Rather than give it up It should not have to be so hard
You don't see it in the cards Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
You don't need them anymore
Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
Hey, hey, hey The only prayer the gambler prays
Is that his face won't show his hand
He's perfected a way
To shut out everything There's a fire where the children are
But you refuse to see the flames
They try to warn you, baby
But you won't leave your game It should not have to be so hard
You don't see it in the cards, hey Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
You don't need them anymore
Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
Put 'em down! You can't think of folding your hand
You can't think of walking away
Not till you win one more game
Then you won't need it anymore
Won't need anymore It should not have to be so hard
You don't see it in the cards, ooh Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
It should not have to be so hard
Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down, yeah Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
Oh, oh, oh
Lay them down, lay them down, lay them down
Come on!
Lay them down
Yeah!
