

Four

Anita O'Day

[Music by Eddie Vinson; lyrics by Bill Loughborough]

There's not one boy for me I must have two or three I need four
First the man who's the type to like slippers and pipe at the door
Then, if at all possible, I'd like the kind
Who's not very boss-able, but knows his mind.

If you add to these few, one that knows how to woo, dog that style
Then this man of my world will be spangled and pearled with his smile
And though it's incredible I've found it's true
That my four-in-one boy's nobody else but you.
