

Change in the Making

Addison Road

There's a better version of me
That I can't quite see
But things are gonna change
Right now I'm a total mess and
Right now I'm completely incomplete
But things are gonna change
'Cause you're not through with me yetChorus:
    This is a redemption's story
    With every step that I'm taking
    Every day, you're chipping away
        What I don't need
    This is me under construction
    This is my pride being broken
    And every day I'm closer to who I'm meant to be
I'm a change in the makingWish I could live more patiently
    Wish I could give a little more of me
    Without stoping to think twice
    Wish I had faith like a little child
    Wish I could walk a single mile
    Without tripping on my own feetChorus:
    This is a redemption's story
    With every step that I'm taking
    Every day, you're chipping away
        What I don't need
    This is me under construction
    This is my pride being broken
    And every day I'm closer to who I'm meant to be
I'm a change in the makingFrom the dawn of history
    You make new and you redeem
    From a broken world to a broken heart
You finish what you start in everythingLike a river rolls into the sea
    We're not who we're going to be
But things are going to changeI'm living a redemption's story
    With every step that I'm taking
    Every day, you're chipping away
        What I don't need
    This is me under construction
    This is my pride being broken
    And every day I'm closer to who I'm meant to be

I'm a change in the makingI'm a change in the making

I'm not who I'm going to be

I'm moving closer to your glory

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>