

Ebony

Lianna Rose

He wore a tattoo of the sun on his right foot,
He had an earring of a clown on his left
He wore the scar from the battle of long ago, down across his chest
Across the mountain I yelled but he couldn't hear me
I ran so fast but I couldn't move
I was frozen as the world spun near me
For I was woken too soon

The walking story is a night time glory
Ebony is awake, while the sun is sleepin
The sun is sleepin

I heard a baby cry but I couldn't find it
I searched for hours but still no reward
I wanted to hold her in the arms of my grace
But I could not find her face
I heard the whistle of a train coming nearer
I tried to stop it but there were no tracks
I screamed as the wind rushed by me
Fell on my knees trying to find my way back

La de di di, la de di di, la de di di

Heard a whistle of a train coming nearer
I tried to stop it but there were no tracks
I screamed as the wind rushed by me
Fell on my knees trying to find my way back

---

Lyrics submitted by Redtown.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>