Day One

Rae Morris

Hey, hey, hey, hee.
Hey, hey, hee, hee.
Hey, hey, hey, hee.
Hey, hey, hee, hee.Day one
And the sun hasn't set yet
And I'm already crying
Day one and the noise
Of the city where we met
Doesn't help to dry themI am aware that
You will prefer being there
Where you're loved
And not embarrassed
For being yourselfHey, hey, hey, hee.
Hey, hey, hee, hee.Day one
And I'm wishing that you never left
And I won't deny it
Day one
And I'm scared
Of all the people you've met
Your love, they will buy itI am aware that Nothing I do can prepare me
For knowing I may lose this
Someday soonNow as you're leaving
My heart
It's not listening to my head
And I am the loneliest version
I've seen of myself.Hey, hey, hey, hee.
Hey, hey, hee, hee.
Hey, hey, hey, hee.
Hey, hey, hee, hee.I've seen of myself.
I've seen of myself.
I've seen of myself.
I've seen of myself.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/