

How the Mighty Mock the Weak

Famous Last Words

Your heavy hateful gaze places all the weight and blame right on my shoulders
Meant to bring me down to the ground and shiver while the room gets colder and colder

You thought it worked out all so well

You thought you sent me down to hell

You thought it worked out all so well but know that I'm not dead yet.

No I'm not dead yet. And how the mighty mock the weak

I'm not one of them so here's a promise I will keep

And I swear I will be free.

Never again, rule over me.

Well you can try to bring me down to a place where I feel guilty, lost, and lonely.

I won't let that happen now

You can try your best but I won't let you break me

I should have seen the signs were there

But I could never be prepared

I should have seen the signs were there but I wouldn't accept it I was scared.

No I'm not dead yet. And how the mighty mock the weak

I'm not one of them so here's a promise I will keep

And I swear I will be free.

Never again, rule over me. Well I'm not scared!

I'll make it through somehow

This isn't over now

All of my fears

I'll overcome somehow

I'll overcome somehow!

And how the mighty mock the weak

I'm not one of them so here's a promise I will keep

And I swear I will be free.

Never again, rule over me.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>