Hangin'

Sahara Hotnights

I only knew you for a little while
Did we run out of reasons, did we run out of time
I told you my truths things we bury and hide
It came easy with you, I put the rest asideYou were offering more than I could ask for that night
You were holding me up when I was on my way down
But as well as I knew I never realized
When it gets to you I can't straighten it outHey, are you still hanging out
It's late did your spinning head carried away
Come on, who were you thinking about
I was up and awaiting still you wanted to stay
Now your hand is still holding mine
But your eyes look far awayI found my thrills and I got my kicks quick
Stop me from using the cheapest of tricks
And I was too nervous to walk a straight line
The biggest of failures can't believe that I triedHey, are you still hanging out
It's late did your spinning head carried away
Come on, who were you thinking about
I was up and awaiting still you wanted to stay
Now your hand is still holding mine
But your eyes look far awayStripped of my senses I don't hear, I don't see
Can't smell the trouble coming right back at me
If you look right through me, I'm sure you would see
I'm always haunted by my childish ideasNo explanation you haven't heard before
Bad excuses a thousand times or more
And there was I with my pathetic defense
Oh, how useful to sometimes slip into somebody elseHey, are you still hanging out
It's late did your spinning head carried away
Come on, who were you thinking about
I was up and awaiting still you wanted to stay
Now your hand is still holding mine
But your eyes look far awayHey, are you still hanging out
It's late did your spinning head carried away
Come on, who were you thinking about
I was up and awaiting still you wanted to stay
Now your hand is still holding mine
But your eyes look far awayHey, are you still hanging out
It's late did your spinning head carried away
Come on, who were you thinking about
I was up and awaiting still you wanted to stay

Now your hand is still holding mine
But your eyes look far away
