

Roll the Dice

Dylan LeBlanc

if pride was a mountain i'd be walking tall but the valley down below is a deadly fall and they say when it rains it pours and now i'm standing here drenched to the bone i see my shadow when the lights are off as dark as it has been the game is up and all the bets are off but i'm not hurting yet are you a gambler babe would you gamble on me and is it really worth it to be worth anything we are young, wild and free well i will roll the dice on you if you will roll the dice on me you don't have to fold on me play your slight of hand roll the dice on me well give it time and walk it off don't let it all come down to a grinding halt win or lose i'm lost alone it's when i get the need to be a rock and not roll bringing on all of these tears of rage that fall away from me you can only call a spade a spade so i guess it's plain to see that the odds are long by a long shot it seems and the games that i've been chasing got away from me and we are young, wild and free
well i will roll the dice on you if you'll still roll the dice on me
you don't have to fold on me
play your slight of hand
roll the dice on me
roll the dice on me

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>