

Lazy Waters

The Byrds

When I was young I'd go down by the river
Just about a mile from my home
A million miles from everyone
My eyes could see your waterMy ears could hear your song
Oh, to be wise again
Get back to your lazy waters
Never needed anyone but youOh, little boys are strange
No one knows they have magic
I kept it in my pocket
Concealed from everyoneBut I climbed the highest tree
To sing a bird my song
Oh, to be wise again
Get back to your lazy waters
Never needed anyone but youWe moved to the city
I said I wouldn't mind
Thought you'd stay inside me
It's easy when you're youngBut as we rode away
I knew you were gone
Oh, to be wise again
Get back to your lazy waters
Never needed anyone but you
