Like Father Like Son

Birdman & Lil Wayne

If you're not my blood, you are my bones
The only one I've ever knownYou showed me how to be a man
You don't know what you mean to me
So many secrets run through meDon't fuck with family
Don't fuck with familyI've tried to be a better man
For you will see that I've grownI know we've both made mistakes
But you could never fail me
In my heart you're the one who's molded me
To be a man who could make you proudDo you have regrets, do you ever look back
Do you have regrets, don't look backThe one I turn to Nobody sees me as you do
You're always thereYou taught me all I know
(You better me I know)
You taught me all I know
(You better me I know)I'm sorry for the times I made you sad
I just want you to know thatI know we've both made mistakes
But you could never fail me
In my heart you're the one who's molded me
To be a man who could make you proudDo you have regrets, do you ever look back
Do you have regrets, don't look back
Don't hold back, don't hold backMany nights I laid awake trying to think of a way to say
But the words just don't seem to escape
They get trapped at the start but the feelings won't fadeSo here's a song to say I love you
This is the one I hope will let you know
I don't need blood but I need bones
You are my homeI know we've both made mistakes
But you could never fail me
In my heart you're the one who's molded me
To be a man who could make you proudDo you have regrets, do you ever look back
Do you have regrets, don't look back
I don't need blood, I need bones
