Amazing Grace

Eugene McGuinness

Streamlined and bronzed by a generous spell
Our game of hard to get doomed from the bell
And throught the rain in the gaslight whisper
How the prey require a predator
Enought said we fled from the bar to your flat
In those legs tangled un a peculiar dance
And after reading the ink on her arm
I realise where this jungle cat's fromThe traffic flashed past your balcony
In the morning I'll recall the taste
Amazing GraceTell me what's the point tearing your conscience to shreds
Be thankful you got one knocking round your head
And thought the demons arrive in the dark
Forming conga lines around your heartThe traffic flash should wash them all away
In the morning I recall the taste
Amazing Grace
Amazing Grace
