Silent Tears

Callenish Circle

His needs controlling his mind
His heart is beating fast
Among their anxious eyesThis easy prey's heart is bleeding Wishing it's just a dream
In this silent moment
The serpent's desires allayedThey look deep inside as cold as ice
The ink-stained memories forever stay
They look deep inside as cold as iceHis needs controlling his mind
His heart is beating fast
Among their anxious eyesAnd they look deep inside as col as your eyes
And they look deep inside as cold as iceOne night's crying can't make up for years of denial
But all things will come to an end Torment and damnation will not last forever After darkness there will always be lightThe angels will expel the demons out of your mind, life, mind
The angels will expel the demons out of your mindRepeat all except firs chapter
