

See Who I Am (Live at the Java Island, Amsterdam)

Within Temptation

Is it true what they say,
Are we too blind to find a way?
Fear of the unknown clouds our hearts today.
Come into my world,
See through my eyes.
Try to understand,
Don't want to lose what we have. We've been dreaming
But who can deny,
It's the best way of living
Between the truth and the lies. See who I am,
Break through the surface.
Reach for my hand,
Let's show them that we can
Free our minds and find a way.
The world is in our hands,
This is not the end. Fear is withering the soul
At the point of no return.
We must be the change
We wish to see.
I'll come into your world,
See through your eyes.
I'll try to understand,
Before we lose what we have. We just can't stop believing
Because we have to try.
We can rise above
Their truth and their lies. See who I am,
Break through the surface.
Reach for my hand,
Let's show them that we can
Free our minds and find a way.
The world is in our hands,
This is not the end. I hear their silence
Preaching my blame.
Will our strength remain
If their power reigns? See who I am,
Break through the surface.
Reach for my hand,
Let's show them that we can
Free our minds and find a way.

The world is in our hands,
This is not the end.
