

Spirit of a Storm

Kenny Chesney

There's a spirit of a storm in my soul
A restlessness that I can't seem to tame
Thunder and lightning follow everywhere I go
There's a spirit of a storm in my soul There's a hurricane that's raging through my blood
And I can't find a way to calm the sea
Maybe I'll find someday the waters aren't so rough
But right now they've got the best of me And oh, it's been a long, long time
Since I've had real peace of mind
So I'm just gonna sit right here
In this old chair, until this storm rolls by And oh, maybe it's just the way I am
And maybe I won't ever change
So I'm just gonna sit right here
In this old chair, and just soak up the rain
