

Caged

Charlene Soraia

You're like a demon on my back
You cage me
You bring me down
You plague me
I bet you swore I'd take you back
You're crazy
You bring me down
You caged me
Once upon a time I thought you were irresistible
You were mystical and magical to me
Now I don't quite believe you are so radical
So I'm leaving you to be freeCHORUS:
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
Like I was something you owned
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
You called it freedomYour love is what my nightmares are made of
You laid your cards on the table
Took mine away
You said I wasn't able to give you loveCHORUS:
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
You called it freedom
You called it loveYour obsession with control
Pains me
It wore me down
It changed me
And I thought that getting out would kill me
But it's been such a bitter relief
A bitter sweet release
You can't be my medicine
Come on
Check out the evidence
I'm no good for you
And you're no good for me
You mistake your arrogance for intelligence
So I'm leaving you to be freeCHORUS:
Well, what did you expect?

You caged me in your home
Like I was something you owned
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
You called it freedom Your love is what my nightmares are made of
You laid your cards on the table
Took mine away
You said I wasn't able to give you love CHORUS:
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
You called it freedom
You called it love
You caged me in your home like I was something you owned
Well, what did you expect?
You caged me in your home
You called it freedom
You called it love
