

Honest

The Verve Pipe

Who will leave your bed this morning?

Who will be the one

To leave you now amidst adoring light

Cause it feels right?

Who will be the one

To leave you as tomorrow's dawning?

And though I'm asking, please don't give specifics

I'm so unterrifically honest

Who will hold your door this evening?

Who will be the one

To steal the smile through shining candlelight

Cause it feels right?

Who will be the one

To leave you as tomorrow's dawning?

I'm not trying to be scientific

I'm not trying to be anything at all

But this chemistry just turns me

Turns me terribly honest

Honest

Who will leave your bed this morning?

Will he be the one

Who snuffs the smile that once had shined so bright?

Are you alright?

Will he be the one

Who leaves you as tomorrow's dawning?

I'm not trying to be sympathetic

I'm not trying to be anything at all

But this story's happened to me

And it's turned me terribly honest

Honest
