

Outlaws and Renegades

Gretchen Wilson

Well, just the other day I was drivin' down the road
And I was listenin' to the stuff comin' out of the music world
Well, I didn't recognize a single song or none of the names
But it didn't really matter 'cause they all seemed to sound the same
Where's all the outlaws and renegades?
The Lord knows, I miss those days
When they said what they thought
What they thought was what was on your mind
Did all the outlaws and renegades
Pack up and go home?
I guess the outlaw and renegade days have gone
Well, I got home and I turned on my TV
And I saw some politician bitchin' 'bout the way it should be
He said a vote for me is a vote to be free at last
But today I just paid 4 dollars for a gallon of gas
Oh, where's all the outlaws and renegades?
The Lord knows, I miss those days
When they said what they thought
What they thought was what was on your mind
Did all the outlaws and renegades
Pack up and go home?
I guess the outlaw and renegade days have gone
Oh, where's all the outlaws and renegades?
The Lord knows, I miss those days
When they said what they thought
What they thought was what was on your mind, yeah
Did all the outlaws and renegades
Pack up and go home?
I guess the outlaw and renegade days have gone
Yeah, I guess the outlaw and renegade days have gone
Just gone
I'm talkin' about Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings
I mean, Helson, give us a little Willie Nelson, come on
