

Across The Highlands

Kamelot

I've been witness to so many wars
That I'm blind to affliction
No ability left to remorse
It's my faith and conviction Wide awake, in this world
Full of hate, I unfurl But I am damned if life itself is condemnation
I am immortal thus my freedom is captivity Flying all across the highlands, searching for a way
To finalize my history
Rising high above the mountains, reaching for the sky
Closer to my sanctuary All my life I've been trying to die
Reach complete segregation
I am ready to open my eyes
To a new revelation Lost in time, there's no place
For my soul, in his embrace For I am damned if life itself is condemnation
I am immortal and I can't discreet my destiny
Bound to live eternally Flying all across the highlands, searching for a way
To finalize my history
Rising high above the mountains, reaching for the sky
Closer to my sanctuary For I am damned if life itself is condemnation
I am immortal and I can't discreet my destiny
Bound to live eternally Flying all across the highlands, searching for a way
To finalize my history
Rising high above the mountains, reaching for the sky
Closer to my sanctuary, sanctuary
