Let Love In

The Elms

It gets tough and lonely sometimes
And your spirit's barely holding on What could I say to make you stay?
What could I give? What words do you need to hear?I could give you all the moments
That your sunlight chased away my clouds
But talking will be the death of me
I won't speak, just send my love your wayWell, you're waiting for salvation, it is waiting for you, too
And when life is at its darkest then the heart will pull you through
So let love go in all you know and let love inSummertime would see you crying
And your heart knew something had to give You'll never deny the truths you find
You'll hang on tight to a friend you can adore

Songwriters
Owen Matthew ThomasPublished by SPIN THE DRADLE PUBLISHING

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/