

A New Star

Roy Orbison

The evening sun is falling, that old blue moon is calling
My guardian angel in the sky came through
To help all my dreams come true, there's a new star
There's a new star coming tonight, there's a new love burning
So bright, for a new star of love is born between the earth and sky
For you and I, there's a new star
The moon was dull, the sky was cold and gray
There were no stars to light my lonely way
And then I traced the love light in your eyes
To a new star twinkling in the sky burning bright, day and night
Now I'm alright, now we're together, lovers forever
A new star, a new star to light our way
There's a new star burning for us, there's a new world turning for us
There's a new star sparkling in the sky
