

Shine Forever

Fozzy

I never knew who I was until I was standing on the edge
I never felt so empty and alone, my memories my only friend
 Dreams about the past and what is meant to be Silent as the sun goes down, I pray the night will set me freeMy time's born at sunrise
 My shadows become shade
 I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me awayMy pulse pounding blood enraged
 What is this I have done?
 The finish line within my grasp
I'm not the only oneSeconds, minutes, hours turn to days
 So much time I let slip away
 Silence as the sun goes down
And pray it comes back up againMy time's born at sunrise
 My shadows become shade
 I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me awayLove can be your enemy
 Or an angel from above
 A blackened beast that you can't see
Or a soaring snow white doveLove can be your enemy
 Or an angel from above
 A blackened beast that you can't see
Or a soaring snow white doveMy time's born at sunrise
 My shadows become shade
 I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me away
