

Default - Tom Furse Remix

Django Django

You thought you'd set the bar,
I never tried to work it out
We just lit the fire and now you want to put it out
You gave it all you got,
And what you got is not enough
Why don't you hand it over,
Time is up, you've had your shot
Gather once again,
Disasters in the end,
It's like a default

You thought you'd make the grade,
Oh, you may will start to fade
We threw it in the fire,
It's better that it not remain
You just brought together,
Didn't seem to have the heart
Wheels are coming off now,
Knew that it would fall apart
Take one for the team you're a cog in the machine,
It's like a default

Take one for the team you're a cog in the machine,
It's like a default

You've missed the starting gun,
For everything you've ever done.
You took part in the race,
But disappeared without a trace.
You thought you'd set the bar,
I never tried to work it out,
We just lit the fire and now you wanna put it out.
Forget about the cause,
Press rewind then stop and pause,
It's like a default.

Forget about the cause,
Press rewind then stop and pause,
It's like a default.
