

All Fades Into God

Rickie Byars Beckwith

In my pains, there inside my weakness
Is the seed of something greater in me
And the shame of not choosing higher
Of all the disappointing moments, fade into God

And no mistakes have been made in God
All the ways that we seem to fail in God, all fade, all fade into God

No choice, prisoner of anguish, in a jail of Iâ€™m so lonely
In a jail of all is lost
But the stars shining to remind us
A seed will need the darkness to change, into new life

And no mistakes have been made in God
All the ways that we seem to fail in God, all fade, it all fade into God

In God, is the gravity that holds it together
In God, is the orbit in which I am standing
I see the stars and I remember to remember
Inside my pain is the seed of my strength (repeat)

God is my life, In God is such excellence,
All the ways that we seem to fail, In God, all fade, it all fades into God

And no mistakes have been made in God
All the ways that we seem to fail in God, all fade, all fade into God, To God

Lyrics submitted by JonNita Johnso.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>