

Fingertips

Lewis Mokler

Et do tre

Ooh oh ru nanana

You're slidin' down a dream, oh yea

Where nights are born in blue, that's the truth

You're swimmin' in a stream, oh yea

Fish are jumpin' too, next to you

Suddenly you notice someone's at the door

You could swear you've been through this all before

Then she runs her fingertips through your hair

Your life has just begun

Her fingers, they are everywhere

You're floatin' light like air, leavin' the ground

And she shines on just like the sun

You're gazin' at the sky, oh my

The stars are out tonight, shinin' bright

You're waving to a cloud, bye bye

(Aaa)

You're drownin' in the smile of his eyes

Suddenly you feel, there's no time for a deal

Though a voice tells you, it's for real

And she runs her fingertips through your hair

And life has just begun

(Ooh)

Her fingers, there and everywhere

You're floatin' light like air, leavin' the ground

She, she shines on just like the sun

It's just a sunny afternoon

Somboddy's singin' songs of love, child

You love a lazy afternoon once in a while

Once in a while

And she runs her fingertips through your hair

(She runs)

Your life has just begun

(Ooh)

Her fingers, they are everywhere

You're floatin' light like air, leavin' the ground

And she shines on just like the sun
