Starting Over Again

Lani Misalucha

And, when I hold you in my arms I promise you
You're gonna feel a love that's beautiful and new
This time I'll love you even better
Than I ever did before
And you'll be in my heart forever moreWe we're just too young to know
We fell in love and let it go
So easy to say the words goodbye
So hard to let the feelings dieI know how much I need you now
The time is turning back somehow
As soon as our hearts and souls unite
I know for sure we'll get the feeling rightAnd now we're starting over again
It's not the easiest thing to do
I'm feeling inside again
Cause everytime I look at you
I know we're starting over again
This time we'll love all the pain away
Welcome home my lover and friend
We are starting over, over again
If we never lived alone
And then we might have never known
All of the time we spent apart
All we did was break each other's heartsAnd now we're starting over again
It's not the easiest thing to do
I'm feeling inside again
Cause everytime I look at you
I know we're starting over again
This time we'll love all the pain away
Welcome home my lover and friend
We are starting over, over againWelcome home my lover and friend
We are starting over, over again
We are starting over, over again
