

The Line

Phish

Dry mouth push it out I can hear
My heart pound, a hero's what I'm not
Voices scream, flashes flare frozen
As the people stare, my crucifixion shot Friends were electric on the western side
While triangles were shifting on the floor
Squeezing out the breath that I don't have the quiet
Now they only want two more And you step to the line
And you step to the line Every shot I've taken, has led me to
This moment since I was four feet high
Big Dee is watching I remember what he Taught me don't let them see you cry And you step to the line
And you step to the line chorus
You try to see your future from the line
You're clinging to the notion you'll be fine
But the circle's getting smaller all the time Dry mouth push it out, I can see my Heart pound, a hero's what I'm not Voices scream, flashes flare frozen as
The people stare my crucifixion shot And you step to the line
And you step to the line [Repeat chorus]

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>