

Reveries Of Flight

Oh, Sleeper

A sound ahead from distant peaks
A song that all my brothers sing
It's just out of reach, to join them I need
The wings the heavens denied me It's like you're deaf to my voice
But I've been here for every moment
Waiting on your call to move If you could just make a choice
I know you would find me wanting
Only to be close to you A sound ahead from distant peaks
A song that all my brothers sing You keep denying my lead 'cause I've tried I've never pulled back my reach
And I've stayed and I've died
But you keep looking for me where I'm not I won't be just where you want me to be
You've got to believe
And just trust that I can be everything It's like you're deaf to my voice
I've been here for every moment
Waiting on your call to move If you could just make a choice
I know you would find me wanting
Only to be close to you If you would just try and let pry
All your grips on worries
I would come alive in your life
And let you find the flight you're longing
