

Kelsey

Joe Truett Clemmons

So, take one word you said
You put it in your bed
You rest your tiny head on your pillow You wonder where you're going next
You got your head pushed to my chest
And now you're hoping that someone lets you in Well I sure'll let you in
You know that you're in
Oh Kelsey, you So don't let anyone scare you
You know that I'll protect you always
Now, through the thick and thin, until the end You better watch it
You know you don't cross it because
I'm always here for you and I'll be here for you I know, I know, I know
I know how it feels, believe me, I've been there
And I know, I know, I know
I know what it feels like, tell me, Kelsey And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey
And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey
Yeah No, it's going to get harder
And it's going to burn brighter
And it's going to feel tougher each and every day So let me say that I love you
You're all that I've ever wanted
All that I've ever dreamed of to come And yes, you did come
I want you so bad, can you feel it too?
You know I'm so, I'm so in love you I want you so much
I need you so much
I need you, I need you, your touch And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey
And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey
And I'll swim the ocean for you
The ocean for you, whoa, oh Kelsey And you never ever let me in
And you never ever let me in
And you never ever let me in
And you never ever let me in
