

Tomorrow (Jmix)

Wynter Gordon

Wynter Gordon: Under the burning Sun, place that we call home

Watch the storyful dawn

Let tomorrow come, let tomorrow come

Dont turn away from me

I want you to look me in these eyes

And dont play the fool with me

I see through you in the darkest sky

So dont turn away, no, no, no

Ill be here waiting

No dont turn away, no, no, no

Ill be here

Under the burning Sun, place that we call home

Watch the storyful dawn

Let tomorrow come,

Under the burning Sun, place that we call home

Watch the sky fall down, let tomorrow come

Say that youll fight for me

(fight for me, fight for me)

Cause hope doesnt bleed in black

O-oh-aye, the fire that burns in me

Desire to lovin all mankind

So dont turn away, no, no, no

Ill be here waiting

No dont turn away, no, no, no

Cause Ill be here

(Ill be here) Under the burning Sun, place that we call home

Watch the storyful dawn

Let tomorrow come,

Watch the sky fall down, let tomorrow come

Salomon Faye:

As graceful as when a bird flies, high vibes,

For the first hight, the second our á¹—eople, my third eye

You the moon and sunrise, the reason I fly times, its still home menage

Arent we in harmony, calming me

Girl you like a Ganja leaf

Needed be, I need you to believe in me

So I could stay with you like Im leaving me

A faith is all that it takes to elevate the good to the great

The great to the bliss, Im taking a kiss
And with the taste of your lips I be making a wish
That when the hard times hit, we stay fit
And dont get celeste
Walk with me trough the storm, and you wont get wet
As the love gets strong, and the sorrow goes
Watch the sky fall down as tomorrow comes Under the burning Sun, place that we call home
Watch the storyful dawn
Let tomorrow come,
Under the burning Sun, place that we call home
Watch the sky fall down, let tomorrow come
Let tomorrow come, let tomorrow come
Let tomorrow come, let tomorrow come
