

Same Old Story

Anastacia

Yeah

Turn around, take a look at my life

I'm a lot like you are

Try to hide from my yesterdays

Still the pain never went away

Could it be, history

All the time just repeatin' on me?

Thought that I could break the chains

Tears and pain, but here I go again

Over and over, on and on

Keep on singing that same old song, you know

Is that the way the story goes?

Same old story

Over and over, round and round

This world keeps turning me inside out, you know

Is that the way the story goes?

Same old story

Turn around, take a look at your life

Thinkin' that you're living right

Judging only on what you see

Just reflections of your misery

All the shame from all the names

Build the walls when we're all the same

You think you got an alibi

But it's a lie, don't even try

Over and over, on and on

Keep on singing that same old song, you know

Is that the way the story goes?

Same old story

Over and over, round and round

This world keeps turning me inside out, you know

Is that the way the story goes?

Same old story

And you don't know, baby

How you're gonna survive

In these troubled times

But if you seek than you shall find, yeah

I say

Sing it with me y'all
Over and over, on and on
Keep on singing that same old song, you know
Is that the way the story goes?
Same old story
Over and over, round and round
This world keeps turning me inside out, you know
Is that the way the story goes?
Same old story
Over and over, on and on
Keep on singing that same old song, you know
Is that the way the story goes?
Same old story
Over and over, round and round
This world keeps turning me inside out, you know
Is that the way the story goes?
Same old story
Over and over, on and on
Keep on singing that same old song, you know
Same old story
Over and over, round and round
This world keeps turning me inside out, you know
Same old story
Over and over, on and on
Keep on singing that same old song, you know
Same old story
Over and over, round and round
This world keeps turning me inside out, you know
Same old story
Over and over, on and on
Keep on singing that same old song, you know
Same old story
