

So You Die

Bloodbath

I will have a feast on your soul and watch your world as it comes tumbling down you know there is no return I will make you burn inside your time has come I show no mercy you know i know no other way than to revel in your flesh I am born to conquer so you die I live inside you
so you die
I won't surrender so you die and now when your days are counted i have reached my goal you are broken down your life is lost i have collected yet another soul that's when you see that you have lost your soul to me that's when you feel that you have lost the will to live and i am still here waiting for the next to drain of life and I am stronger now than when i took your useless life no living thing can be spared from my attack when i feel the urge to kill I hate your breath and the strength you get from life because i have never lived and now its my time to be one with all the mortal ones that walk the earth I enter human form my wicked soul lives on into eternity
