Rvg

Capture the Crown

Where do I begin?
I didn't know that I need your approval
To do something that would never include you
Talk is cheap you want to know what I think?Go back to your bedroom with your goddamn keyboard
My future, I see more you losers should just redraw
Shooting blanks in the dark, drop it Low!What is this fucking for? Are you trying to justify?
You are no better than your words, here as a waste for the worldMy dreams are higher than the fucking sky
I'm going to keep at this I'll do this till I die
You talk it, I live it, you're jealous, I admit it
You're not going to break my strideDo I have to bury myself to be unnoticed?
I'll hide there until I grab you and pull you under I will end you
Let me be, let me beMy dreams are higher than the fucking sky
I'm going to keep at this I'll do this till I die
You talk it, I live it, you're jealous, I admit it
You're not going to break my strideYou say that shit to me, and I don't give a fuck
Say it to my face, I'll end you
There's always room for change as long as your prepared
To pay for your mistakes empty your headYou keep on running, at least I got something
To end my life with where do you go now?
You keep on running, at least I got something
To end my life with what do you amount to?
You keep on running, at least I got something
To end my life with where do you go now?
You keep on running, at least I got something
To end my life with what do you amount to?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/