

Your Eyes (Datsik Remix)

Colin Munroe

If you must go, if you must say goodbye then please, leave me something to remember you by
But no, not your heart, it's all torn up and scarred, it took most of the hurt, from what has torn us apart
If you must fly, if you must say goodbyethen please, leave me something to remember you by
But no, not your soul, it's all tattered and broke besides, I think it's already sold
I'll just take your eyes I'll just take your eyes, they're always mine, so I'll never ever forget
My greatest prize, I'll take your eyes, I'll take your eyes I'll take your eyes, I'll just take your eyesThey were oh so pure, they were oh so divine Stayed open for the good and then closed for the fights
Don't recall if they're green, don't recall if they're blue
But they're pure, that's how I want to remember you
I'll just take your eyes, I'll just take your eyes, they're always mine, so I'll never ever forget
My greatest prize, I'll take your eyes, I'll take your eyes, I'll take your eyes, I'll just take your eyes Take my eyes, take my eyes, you can take my eyesIf it's better to remember me another way, not as a girl on a mission to discover pain Then I believe that's it's best that you recall a glimmer in my eye that never really shone at allAin't got sh*t but phones to call, lies, I told em all, the motor missing from my bricks my edifice is known to fall And my artifice is too, why I don't need someone, sometimes it feels to hard for me to prove.
See I'm incapable of staying put, all these hounds are out to get me so my expertise is faking good I'm saving something beautiful, instead of maybe breaking you Tell me I should cut it out so f**k it I'll be taking two Right here in the same room, but I'm a thousand miles apart
I ought to break through, but I doubt I have the heart
But I wanna feel, guess I'll have to wait to find Can't give you something real, so take my eyes, take my eyes
