Restless Dream

Jack's Mannequin

I write you from this grounded airplane
I wonder how you've been and where you are
A letter to the one who slipped away
A letter for the things that never start
Oh my imagination running wild
Guess I missed you from the day that we first met
Crazy this fascination makes a sound
Like a twister in my mind
A restless dream we left behind
I never will forget
It's funny how the words we never say
Can turn into the only thought we know
But Austin's just so very far away
And I cannot believe I let you go
Oh my imagination running wild
Guess I missed you from the day that we first met
Crazy this fascination makes a sound
like a twister in my mind
A restless dream we left behind
I never will forget

This restless dream
So I call to you
From the darkness of my room
You will never be a memory
Now you're a restless dream
A restless dream
A restless dream
So I write to this address that I don't know
You said you had to leave and we lost track
But if you hear this on the radio
I said it now and there's no turning back
Oh my imagination running wild
Guess I missed you from the day that we first met
Crazy this fascination makes a sound
Like a twister in my mind
A restless dream we left behind
I never will forget
This restless dream

A restless dream
