

Hope for the Best

Dikta

people never change but some learn a lesson a few of them are strange and others never listen
and wait for the worsteven though you try to sort through the rubble some will make you cry and others make you trouble
and wait for the worstbut once you find a friend on whom you can depend hold on and wait on the weather if you can't see the sun two are better than oneevery day, every day happy that i met you find a way, find a way to show you that i love you when we're not together i feel like i'm not all therei will never change but i've learned a lesson maybe a little strange but i always listen i hope for the best and wait for the worstand as the years go by i've seen reasons why i can't do this myself
and i need your help
