

Moving On

Decyfer Down

Hiding out a smile is a life filled with hurt
A soul is crying out, wanting to be heard
I've tried all I know to just cut all my pain
Will I come alive? Is there any way? I don't want to waste another day
Living in regret from my mistakes
I'll move on and the sun will shine
Pick up the pieces, walk away
Live with the chances I have made
You've forgotten and so will I, so will I When the day is done and the noise and lights are gone
I look back at my life and what else can go wrong
How could you still love a heart as cold as ice?
Well, I must look so different, different in your eyes I don't want to waste another day
Living in regret from my mistakes
I'll move on and the sun will shine
Pick up the pieces, walk away
Live with the chances I have made
You've forgotten and so will I, so will I Ay, it's a mystery how you and I can be I don't want to waste another day
Living in regret from my mistakes
I'll move on and the sun will shine
Pick up the pieces, walk away
Live with the chances I have made
You've forgotten and so will I, so will I The sun will shine and so will I, ooh
