Jailbird

M. Ward

Jailbird, jailbird, singing through the wires 'Cause his cage is closed and he's stuck inside Said who's gonna hear my help me, help me now? Yeah, who's gonna hear my help me, help me now? (Help me, help me, help me now) Hangman, hangman, knocking on the door Says heaven can't wait to have you no more So who's gonna hear your, help me, help me now? (Help me, help me, help me now) Yeah, who's gonna hear your help me, help me now? (Help me, help me, help me now) Better go find another best friend somehowHelp me, help me, help me now Help me, help me, help me nowAngel, angel, coming for me now On eagle's wings, down from the clouds Save my soul before they lay my whole body down Save my soul before they lay me whole body down (Help me, help me, help me now)So there's nothing but skin and bones Hiding under a dead man's clothes Six feet deep in a black box undergroundHelp me, help me, help me, help me now Help me, help me, help me now
