

Thick Is the Skin

Skid Row

Eightball hanging overhead flushed out like Frankenstein one more for the living dead that's not me this time knocked down I've been down before yet still we bare the load if I would want it anymore I just might explode All your heroes have died and left you to rise from the ashes and live for today Can you take it all when we're standing tall we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel the pain Thick is the Skin Thick is the skin Yeah Outside still looking in I'll keep what I've made mine timebomb strapped to my chin step down or fall in line All your heroes have died and left you to rise from the ashes and live for today Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel the pain
Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Yeah Hey (x15) Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel the pain
Thick is the Skin Can you take it all when we're standing tall
we don't need a wall built around us
Jump into the flame one and all the same we won't feel the pain
Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Thick is the Skin Yeah Hey (15)

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>