Sick Charade

The Letter Black

I'm finally sick of your tongue
You suck the air from my lungs
Leave me with nothing to say (say, say, say, say)
Twist every truth till it bleeds
Spread the dirt, plant the seeds
Don't think, don't blink, just obey, obey(Just another sick charade)If you don't know what we're fighting for
Then I wont follow anymore
Disappear, behind the mask you've made
My eyes are wide open now
I can see you through your sick charadeYour fairy tales' full of lies
Prey ignorance on the wise
You spread it like a disease
Throw your opinions away
Now just repeat what they say
While you stay down on your knees(Just another sick charade)If you don't know what we're fighting for
Then I wont follow anymore
Disappear, behind the mask you've made
My eyes are wide open now
I can see you through your sick charadeWe're not too weak
To raise our fists
'Cause ignorance like this
It should never exist!
We won't be silenced
We won't stay quiet
'Cause ignorance like this
This is never bliss!If you don't know what we're fighting for
Then I wont follow anymore
Disappear, behind the mask you've made
My eyes are wide open now
I can see you through your sick charadeWe're not too weak
To raise our fists
'Cause ignorance like this
This is never bliss!
