The Fold

Hello to a ghost I have let go
Used to float around my window
(Float around my window)
It's New Year's Eve tonightIf God calls me home before midnight
Our epitaphs might read the same '1979-2002'
That's all they'd say about you and I
Me and my best friendHello to a ghost I have let go
Used to float around my window
(Float around my window)
I'm looking up into this endless void for you
Tell me who will fill this empty point of view?But as I force myself to see the very nature of the question
I see that either you're safely in God's arms
Or in eternal insurrection
Although it's been nice to hear from you
I'll rest assured in this decision
