

Witness

Winger

There's a shadow in your heart keeps you in the dark you're staring out the window all alone You keep yourself apart from everything you long for could you walk away from everything you've known And don't look back right or wrong, it's your release so don't give up
find the love to finally find your way out of the life that let you life that let you down
would you dare to open your heart?
would you dare to come out of the dark?
who'll be there to catch your fall?
someone there to see it all
if you dare then I'll be there You see the sun go down The emptiness surrounds you you only know the war inside your head You barely hear a sound in all the world around you you only hear the echo of regret And don't be afraid right or wrong, you'll always have your right to change find the strength to finally find your Way out of the loneliness loneliness inside you

would you dare to open your heart?
would you dare to come out of the dark?
who'll be there to catch your fall?
someone there to see it all
who'll be there to honor your life
if you dare then I'll be there
would you dare to open your heart?
would you dare to come out of the dark?
who'll be there to catch your fall?

someone there to see it all
who'll be there to honor your life
if you dare then I'll be there
if you dare then I'll be there

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>