

A Girl and His Cat

Biffy Clyro

I never have fun but I wouldn't say no
I guess that's my prerogative
I never give up and I never look down
That would be the end of it Look at me now screaming up and down
With huge degrees of lethargy
Some may say that I'm lying down
That don't mean a fuck to me I should remove you all
Nothing ventured, nothing made
Hang on your suffering wall
To decompose and rearrange
Sit tight with your lonely rose
Beauty is the death of pain
Don't see you come in at all
So we control and we contain
This is what you wanted to be
This is what you wanted This your house, this is not your home
I don't know if we're ever gonna be long
You can build a house but not a home
It will always stand on shakey ground I wanna play dumb but I can't let go
Of my responsibilities
Why have one, you can take all ten?
I bet that's not enough for you I should remove you all
Nothing ventured, nothing made
Hang on your suffering wall
To decompose and rearrange
This is what you wanted to be
This is what you wanted This your house, this is not your home
I don't know if we're ever gonna be long
You can build a house but not a home
It will always stand on shakey ground We are looking for love
But you're baying for blood
We are looking for love
But you're baying for blood This is what you wanted to be
This is what you wanted
