Breathe You In

Thousand Foot Krutch

Taking hold, breaking in
The pressures on, need to circulate
Mesmerized and taken in
Moving slow, so it resonatesIt's time to rest, not to sleep away
My thoughts alone, try to complicate
I'll do my best, to seek You out
And be myself and not impersonateI tried so hard to not walk away
And when things don't go my way
I'll still carry on and on, just the sameI've always been strong, but can't make this happen
'Cause I need to breathe, I want to breathe You in Fear of becoming so tired of running
'Cause I need to breathe, I want to breathe You in
I want to breathe You inI'm going in, so cover me
Your compass will help me turn the page
The laughing stock, I'll never be
Because I won't let them take meI tried so hard to not walk away
And when things don't go my way
I'll still carry on and on, just the sameI've always been strong, but can't make this happen
'Cause I need to breathe, I want to breathe You in
Fear of becoming so tired of running
'Cause I need to breatheTook awhile to see
All the love that's around me
Through the highs and lows
There's a truth that I know and it's YouI, I've always been strong, but can't make this happen
'Cause I need to breathe, I want to breathe You in The fear of becoming so tired of running
'Cause I need to breathe, I want to breathe You inI want to breathe You in, I want to breathe You in
I want to breathe You in, I want to, I want to
I want to breathe You in, I want to breathe You in
I want to breathe, I want to, I want to, I want to breathe
I want to breathe, I want to breathe, I want to breathe
