Running Away

Sacha Sacket

There's not a cloud in the sky when we walk by, no
And the smoke spirals off your cigarette
The wind blows hard off the side of the car
And the sun shines on our silhoutte
And today we have no cares, today
Well tomorrow we'll be more aware, tomorrow
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the day
Does it show?
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the days
And we know, we know
We'll be laughing until our tears run dry
And our silence fills the air with a smile
We'll talk about all the years that are passing us by
And about how we've been friends all the while
But today we have no cares, today

Well tomorrow, we'll be more aware, tomorrow
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the day
Does it show?
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the days
And we know yet we know
But today we have no cares, today
Well tomorrow, we'll be more aware, tomorrow
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the day
Does it show?
We're not running to run away
We're just wasting away the days
We know, we know
We know, we know
We know, we know
