

1,000 Christmas Lights

Ashton Edminster

Cold enough to make you shiver,
But not cold enough to snow.
Cold enough to know it's winter,
perfect time to say our first hello.

Hmm...

Hmm...

Scarves and sweaters,
bundled up in cotton.

Knowing names that wouldn't be forgotten,
Laughing over our own sense of humour
Underneath the Christmas lights that glow.

I'm glad I got to know you better,
we've come so far since that December
who would have known I would have made my best friend on that night
under 1, 000 Christmas lights.

Hmm...

Hmm...

Another year went by so quickly,
it's Christmas time again.

And even though we both get busy,
we still have time to talk for hours on end.

I'm glad I got to know you better,
we've come so far since that December
who would have known I would have
made my best friend on that night
under 1, 000 Christmas lights.

Lights...

Lights...

The stars around you,
That sparkle from the trees,

I'm glad I found you

I'm not alone,

It's you and me.

I'm glad I got to know you better,
we've come so far since that December
who would have known I would have made my best friend on that night
under 1, 000 Christmas lights.

Hmm...

Hmm...
